AUTUMN SEASON AT A GLANCE

14 – 23 September
EMPATHY MUSEUM
A MILE IN MY SHOES

27 September
AUGUSTO CORRIERI
IN PLACE OF A SHOW

28 September
THE MESSY EDGE

11 October
GAIKA & GAZELLE TWIN:
DOUBLE BILL

12 October
JAMES HOLDEN
AND THE ANIMAL SPIRITS

14 October
BLAST THEORY
BLOODYMINDED

1 – 2 November
DR CARNESKY’S
INCREDIBLE BLEEDING WOMAN

6 November
AN EVENING WITH
INGRID POLLARD

7 November
THINKING QUEER:
AUDRE LORDE

16 November
ASIAN DUB FOUNDATION
LA HAINÉ
(LIVE SCORE)

17 November
AMIINA FANTÔMAS
(LIVE SCORE)

19 November
LAST DAY
OF FREEDOM
What is it like to have been a prisoner of war? To be a sex worker, miner or refugee? Or to have rediscovered love in your eighties? The Empathy Museum invites you to take a moment to look at the world through someone else’s eyes.

Produced by Artsadmin and curated by Clare Patey, A Mile in My Shoes is a collection of audio stories that explore how empathy can not only transform our personal relationships but also help tackle global challenges such as prejudice, conflict and inequality.

Pop-up shoe shop A Mile in My Shoes invites you to embark on a physical, emotional and imaginative journey. Come and walk a mile in someone else’s shoes – literally – while listening to their story.
What happens inside theatres when nothing is happening? How can we turn our attention to non-human elements inside an auditorium?

In this performance-lecture, artist and writer Augusto Corrieri (Drama, Theatre and Performance, University of Sussex) narrates the surprising discovery of a lone swallow, flying inside an Italian Renaissance theatre.

The performance marks the paperback publication of his book, In Place of a Show: what happens inside theatres when nothing is happening (Bloomsbury).
THE MESSY EDGE

Last year, Brighton Digital Festival took a pioneering journey to the ‘messy edge’ – the more human, less clinical and more interesting version of the ‘cutting edge’ – with a smart band of conference-goers. This year we’re going back.

The Messy Edge is Brighton Digital Festival’s in-house conference; its heart and voice. It’s where we unpack some of the social, cultural and political implications of technology. Here we challenge dominant perspectives.

This is a conference for all, so join us for a day of thought-provoking talks by artists, activists and thinkers about the stuff – good, bad and ugly – that underpins our daily lives and is shaping the world we live in.

Speakers to be announced this summer, along with the full Brighton Digital Festival programme. See our website for details.
Chalkroom is a virtual reality work by Laurie Anderson and Hsin-Chien Huang in which the reader flies through an enormous structure made of words, drawings and stories.

Once you enter you are free to roam and fly. Words sail through the air as emails. They fall into dust. They form and reform.

“Finally an artform where you can fly, just like in your dreams.” Laurie Anderson
Max Cooper has carved out a unique position for himself as an artist, merging electronic music, visual art and science through installations, live audio-visual and immersive sound experiences.

Aether, a collaboration with Architecture Social Club: plays on our intrinsic and emotional relationship to the forms, colours and sounds all around us. In the same way that we have a natural connection with music that creates emotional responses without us really knowing how, Aether was built as a tool for experimenting with connecting light and sound to the emotions of those in the space.
JAMES HOLDEN AND THE ANIMAL SPIRITS

Let yourself be transported to a magical other world of instinct and intuition with this bold new set of synth-led folk-trance standards from electronics guru James Holden and his newly-expanded band.

A wild ride that unites the characteristic propulsive melodic vigour of his custom-made modular synthesizer system with an unlikely supporting cast of brass, wind and live percussion. The expansive and transformative psychedelic journey of The Animal Spirits is certainly Holden’s most ambitious work to date – but surely also his most direct and accessible.

Support to be announced.
A five-time Grammy award nominated composer, electronic music pioneer, and neo-classical recording artist, Suzanne Ciani (USA) is one of the most renowned female composers in the world. Over the course of her career she’s released 15 solo albums, has been recognised as Keyboard Magazine’s ‘New Age Keyboardist of the Year’ and received the 2017 Moog Innovation Award. Following two sold out shows at Café OTO last year (her first ever performances in London), we welcome her back to the UK.
Martin Messier (Canada) presents FIELD. In FIELD, Messier creates sounds using electromagnetic fields from our environment.

These residual and imperceptible electric signals are picked up with electromagnetic transducer microphones, and become generators of the performance. By a continuous movement of plugging and unplugging, Messier interacts with them, thus noise and light composition emerges. With FIELD, Messier makes material this flow of power otherwise inaudible and invisible.

A mesmerising audio-visual treat.
Born out of his travels through the many global currents of contemporary London, GAIKA’s music is dark yet melodic, experimental yet catchy. While drawing strongly from his Brixton upbringing and his Jamaican and Grenadian heritage, GAIKA’s sound is ultimately expansive, seamlessly weaving musical motifs, vocal flows and slangs of UK, US and Caribbean music.

As both a vocalist and producer, GAIKA is as uncompromising in his politics as his sonics, intent on expanding and exploding the ideas of what contemporary Black British music is.
We are delighted to bring Gazelle Twin back to Brighton with an electrifying new performance hot on the heels of her latest album, Pastoral.

According to producer, composer and artist Elizabeth Bernholz – the genius behind Gazelle Twin – her inspired craft is ‘like a shedding of skin’; ‘tearing out of your body, down to your skeleton and breaking free’.

In something of a paradox, what is signature to Bernholz’s performances is her masquerade-like use of costume, a catalyst in the process of releasing and replacing identity. In toying with anonymity in this way, Gazelle Twin bewitches audiences by masking the surface as a means of releasing what lies beneath.
Award-winning artist group Blast Theory will be bringing the UK’s first ever live interactive film to Attenborough Centre for the Creative Arts this October, for an ambitious one-night-only live event. Co-commissioned by 14-18 NOW, the UK’s arts programme for the First World War centenary, and Attenborough Centre for the Creative Arts, this groundbreaking film will explore why some of us go to war and others choose not to. Intrigued?
CLOD ENSEMBLE
PLACEBO

Tuesday 16 & Wednesday 17 October
8pm
£12/£10 (concs)

Highly Visual

Pre-show artist talk: Tuesday 16 October, 7pm
Free with a ticket to see the performance

Commissioned by The Place

Seven dancers and an audience. A room full of expectation, suggestion and infectious rhythm. What is fake and what is real? Is the movement the medicine?

A celebration of the power we have to make ourselves feel better, even when things are falling apart. Placebo continues Clod Ensemble’s reputation for finely crafted, provocative performance.

Feeling Better Panel Discussion
Monday 15 October
7pm
£5/£3 (concs)

What makes us feel better? Join us for a conversation with patients, health professionals & artists to consider how beliefs, expectations and relationships can have a radical impact on a treatment’s effectiveness.
art of attachment is an evening of two new works by poet Lemn Sissay and choreographer/director Charlotte Vincent, made in collaboration with Brighton Oasis Project. The works celebrate the everyday resilience of women and children overcoming adversity, whose real-life stories demand to be seen and heard.

Performance may contain stories unsuitable for a younger audience.
who has agency,
who has privilege,
who is represented,
who is silenced,
who is reading that silence as consent.

A new performance written by Sue MacLaine.

Sue MacLaine is a theatre-maker with a singularly driven voice. Winner of a Total Theatre Award for ‘Innovation, Experimentation & Playing with Form’ (Can I Start Again Please).

These performances are captioned. The captions are woven creatively into the aesthetic of the piece, making every performance accessible to D/deaf and hard of hearing audiences.
Putting the magic back into menstruation, Marisa Carnesky’s latest work uncovers the last unmentionable taboo: menstruation, in an all-out genre-bending contemporary performance spectacular. Issues around fertility, miscarriage, trans identities, lost ancient herstories and what it means to be ‘female’, are scrutinised, politicised and reclaimed.

Delivered with wry humour and revolutionary politics, including breathtaking reworks of traditional magic illusions and horror cinema classics, Incredible Bleeding Woman features performed and filmed rituals from collaborating artists Fancy Chance, Rhyannon Styles, MisSa Blue, H Plewis and Nao Nagai.
ON PHOTOGRAPHY:
AN EVENING WITH
INGRID POLLARD

Tuesday
6 November
8pm
£5/£3

Ingrid Pollard is a photographer, media artist, researcher and a graduate of the London College of Printing and Derby University. Ingrid has developed a social practice concerned with representation, history and landscape with reference to race, difference and the materiality of lens based media. Her work is included in numerous collections including the Arts Council Collection and the Victoria & Albert Museum. She lives and works in London, UK.

Ingrid will be the inaugural Stuart Hall Fellow in residence at the University of Sussex in Autumn 2018. During her time at Sussex she will further a commission, The Valentines Days, which was part of Making Jamaica at Autograph ABP in London, exploring how a new image of Jamaica was created through photography in the 19th century.
After last year’s exploration of the Bloomsbury Group we reconnect with queer art innovators The Marlborough Theatre for a night of reflection, resistance, poetics and power to celebrate the work of trailblazing writer, thinker and activist Audre Lorde.

Expect live performances from some of the UK’s boldest and brightest artists sharing brand new work. Thinking Queer will be staged in our beautiful café bar, so this informal event also comes with plenty of time for drinks and conversation after the show.

Ticket bundle for Thinking Queer & Rachael Young: £16/£12 (concs)
RACHAEL YOUNG
NIGHTCLUBBING

Thursday
8 November

8pm

£10/£8
Age 12+

Rachael Young and her badass band of super-humans embrace Afrofuturism and the cult of Grace Jones in NIGHTCLUBBING; an explosive new performance bringing visceral live music and intergalactic visions to start a revolution. Women to the front, LGBTQAI to the front, People of Colour to the front!!!
SCOTTEE
FAT BLOKES

Wednesday 14 November
8pm
£10/£8 (concs)

A Q&A with Scottee and Spencer Charles Smith will follow Fat Blokes

Fat Blokes is a sort of dance show about flab, double chins and getting your kit off in public. Artist and forward facing fatso, Scottee uncovers why fat men are never sexy but are always funny; the ‘before’ but never the ‘after’ shot.

Made in collaboration with choreographer Lea Anderson and four fat blokes who’ve never done this sort of thing before.

A 48-hour Queer Art Occupation at The Marlborough Theatre

Monday 12 & Tuesday 13 November

To coincide with Fat Blokes, join Scottee and Spencer Charles Smith (PhD candidate, University of Sussex) at the Marlborough Theatre as they discuss and disrupt what it means to be a queer artist in modern Britain.

See marlboroughtheatre.org.uk for details.
In 1968 Toots and the Maytals coined the word reggae with their anthem Do the Reggay, a Jamaican form of music which, drawing upon ska and rocksteady, gave a voice to the poor and dispossessed of the newly independent island. Three years later, Trinidadian film maker Horace Ové captured this emergent rebel reggae culture in a powerful documentary Reggae that mixed footage of Desmond Dekker, the Maytals and Millie Small performing at Wembley in 1970 with interviews of Black British youth on their way to the festival.

The film will be introduced by the music historian Kelly Foster in conversation with Mykaell Riley (former singer with the reggae band Steel Pulse). Reggae (1971) will be followed by a round table discussion with cultural curator Karina Horsham, the artist and playwrite Michael McMilllan and art historian Paul Goodwin on the historical significance of Horace Ové’s work.

REGGAE AT 50

WITH HORACE OVÉ’S REGGAE (1971)

Sunday

11 November

5pm

£5/£3 (concs)

The café bar will be open from 3pm with a reggae soundsystem

Organised by Professor Martin Evans (Modern History, University of Sussex), for the Resistance Studies Network and the Centre for Photography and Visual Culture

Part of CINECITY

The Brighton Film Festival

November 9 – 25
Asian Dub Foundation’s live rescore of Mathieu Kassovitz’s La Haine (1995) – 24 hours in the lives of three young men in the French suburbs the day after a violent riot – was first performed at the Barbican Centre in 2001. The project has since taken the band and film to Australia, to post-riot Broadwater Farm Estate in London and it was also part of David Bowie’s Meltdown festival at London’s Southbank Centre.

The fact that this project has been in constant demand since its original creation over 10 years ago is a testament to the continuing relevance of Kassovitz’s stunning vision and Asian Dub Foundation’s tireless development of the live soundtrack medium.

Following the film there will be a 30 minute set from the musicians performing La Haine along with Nathan ‘FluteBox’ Lee, who plays in the full touring Asian Dub Foundation band.
AMIINA FANTÔMAS (LIVE SCORE)

Saturday 17 November

UK premiere

8pm

£14/£12 (concs)

Join amiina for their latest adventure in sound and on screen: Fantômas. Originally composed as a live score to the silent masterpiece from 1913, amiina’s members decided right from the start that the music would also be able to stand on its own, independent of the visual narrative. Melancholic and ethereal, yet full of suspense, pounding rhythms and haunting melodies, fans won’t be disappointed.
LAST DAY OF FREEDOM
AN ANIMATED DOCUMENTARY

Monday 19 November
7pm
£5/£3

When Bill Babbitt realizes his brother Manny has committed a crime he agonizes over his decision – should he call the police? Last Day of Freedom, an academy award nominated short film, is a richly animated personal narrative that tells the story of Bill’s decision to stand by his brother, a veteran returning from war, as he faces criminal charges, racism, and ultimately the death penalty. This film is a portrait of a man at the nexus of the most pressing social issues of our day – veterans’ care, mental health access and criminal justice.

Created by Oscar nominated, Emmy award winning filmmakers Dee Hibbert-Jones & Nomi Talisman. Hibbert-Jones and Talisman have been working together since 2004, collaborating on art, film and interactive projects that look at the ways power structures and politics impact everyday lives.

Dee Hibbert-Jones, (Professor of Art & Digital Art New Media, University of California) will be in conversation with Professor Kate O’Riordan, (Head of School, Music, Film and Media, University of Sussex)
Quarantine are internationally acclaimed for creating theatre out of everyday life. The people on stage in Wallflower are trying to remember every dance they’ve ever danced. Spanning a lifetime of music, fashion, politics, friendships, parties, love and loss, Wallflower is a show about how dancing shapes our lives.

Friday 23 November

8pm

Saturday 24 November

3.30pm – 8.30pm

(durational performance, come and go as you please)

£12/£10 (concs)

For more information visit wallflowerdances.com
Released in the early years of the AIDS epidemic, Buddies was the first feature film to address a crisis that many were reluctant to discuss. Directed by Arthur J Bressan Jr., an audacious filmmaker whose work included gay pornography, documentary and fiction, the drama tells the story of a young man named David who becomes a voluntary ‘buddy’ for an AIDS patient named Robert.

As the two men spend more time together, a profound friendship develops and the pair soon grow to depend on each other more than they would ever have anticipated. Bressan died two years after the film’s release from AIDS-related illnesses, but the impact of his film endures to this day. Screened in advance of World AIDS day on 1 December 2018.
JW PRODUCTIONS PRESENTS
PETER PAN

Friday 14 – Monday 31 December

Tickets from £10 and family tickets available

JM Barrie’s classic Peter Pan comes to vibrant life this Christmas with a sprinkle of fairy dust and plenty of surprises.

Peter and Tinkerbell invite you to the unbelievable, magical world of Neverland (along with Wendy and the Darling family of course!) A place where lost boys run riot, pirates are in fine voice, crocodiles go tick-tock, and the villain has a very shiny hook!

See our website or contact the box office for full performance schedule and ticket prices

Our café bar will be open in conjunction with Peter Pan
OUR CAFÉ BAR

Open
Monday – Friday
10am – 6pm from 24 September – 14 December 2018

The café bar will also normally be open in conjunction with our programme of events (one hour before each advertised performance time)

EAT Visit to enjoy breakfast foods, sandwiches, soups and sharing platters all made with fresh, locally and ethically sourced produce. Vegan and vegetarian options are available.

DRINK Our bar serves a selection of local beers, wines, spirits, soft drinks, ice-cold cocktails, a range of teas and barista coffee.

MEET The sun-dappled space is the perfect place to meet, with plenty of plants and full of natural light.

RELAX Our designers have furnished the space with a distinctive combination of refurbished Basil Spence chairs, mixed with bespoke oak tables, a juke box and mid-century sofas and armchairs.

Attenborough Centre for the Creative Arts is committed to the Plastic Free Pledge
GETTING HERE

Travel from Brighton or Lewes to Falmer by train in less than 10 minutes, every 15 minutes. You can also take the 25 or 25X (or N25) bus direct from central Brighton or the 28 bus from Lewes.

Car parking is available on the University of Sussex campus near our venue in the Sports Centre Car Park. This is free of charge after 5pm on weekday evenings and all day at weekends.

We encourage cycling to our venue. The University of Sussex campus is on the Sustrans Regional Route 90 and there are plenty of bike racks available for cyclists across campus, including racks of BTN Bike Share vehicles for hire.

ACCESSIBILITY

Many of our performances are BSL interpreted, captioned or audio described. Others are preceded by a touch tour. We have an infra-red hearing aid loop installed in the auditorium, Assistance Dogs are very welcome and we host regular relaxed performances. Our public performance spaces are wheelchair accessible. Tickets for personal assistants and companions are always complimentary.

We follow the guidance of Attitude is Everything and hold a Silver award in their Charter of Best Practice.

This brochure is available on our website and at our venue in a large print format.

TRY SOMETHING NEW

For many events at Attenborough Centre for the Creative Arts, University of Sussex students, staff and alumni (with valid identification) receive concession priced tickets. Contact us to register your eligibility.

All University of Sussex students, staff and alumni (with valid identification) receive concession priced tickets for many ACCA programmed events. Contact us to register your eligibility.

Contact us via: info@attenboroughcentre.com or 01273 678 822 with any questions you may have
Box Office opening hours
Monday – Friday | 10am – 4pm

For full information about the programme & to book tickets visit attenboroughcentre.com or call 01273 678 822

University of Sussex
Gardner Centre Road
Brighton BN1 9RA

@AttenboroughCtr
facebook.com/attenboroughcentre